What we do

For a century, the Russellville Area Chamber of Commerce has brought area businesses together in support of economic growth and initiatives that support the community. The Chamber has more than 700 members, ranging from single employee operations to companies with more than 1,000 employees. All types of businesses are represented showing the diverse business community of the Russellville area.

Approximately 200 active volunteers, a Board of Directors and an internal professional staff, carry out our mission. These individuals are composed of men and women who serve as the front door to the community and the voice of business. Their goal is to continually enhance the quality of life for the community and make this area an even better place to live, work and play.

What we do

Membership grants you access to a range of programs and services aimed at promoting your business and community. By investing in membership, you contribute to ongoing efforts to enhance the quality of life for all residents of the Russellville area. As the Russellville area's business advocacy organization, the Chamber is ready to support your growth and financial success.

The Chamber receives numerous daily inquiries for recommendations on products and services. Only members are referred, and all are treated equally. Unlike any other organization in Russellville, the Chamber dedicates 100% of its time and resources to promoting the regional community.

Throughout the year, the Chamber organizes several networking events that provide excellent opportunities for exchanging information, making business contacts, reconnecting with colleagues, meeting local suppliers, announcing updates, and promoting new products, and services. We strongly encourage members to maximize their exposure by taking full advantage of these events.

Our Mission

The mission of the Russellville Area Chamber of Commerce is to stand as a voluntary organization of businesses and professional men and women who have joined together for the purpose of promoting the civic, economic, professional, cultural, and industrial progress of our community.

First Friday Breakfast On the first Friday during the setup period, the Chamber hosts a special event combining breakfast, business networking, and an informative business program. Attendees have the chance to connect with each other, share ideas, and enjoy a delicious breakfast. This event is a must for anyone looking to network with fellow business owners and professionals.

River Valley Business Expo The Annual River Valley Business Expo brings together a variety of industries, including manufacturing, retail, hotels, utilities, and marketing firms. Exhibitors and attendees can participate in business-focused breakout sessions and educational seminars during the setup period. To kick off the expo, the Expo Preview Party offers participants and guests an exclusive look at the booths, the opportunity to vote for the best booth, and a chance to meet new and old friends while savoring delectable food from local restaurants. The following day, the Chamber invites everyone to a day filled with exciting activities, numerous giveaways, great deals, and captivating food demonstrations.

The Chamber also offers sponsorship opportunities at various community events, such as the Annual Meeting and Bash at the Ballpark, among others. Member-sponsors can enjoy promotional placements, such as banners, t-shirts, and promotional items, to enhance their visibility at these events.

Chamber members benefit from numerous value-added advantages, including ribbon-cutting ceremonies, business lobbying, small business resources and seminars, sponsorship and advertising prospects, as well as helpful publications.

OUR LEADERSHIP

“Our job is to help bring businesses together in support of economic growth and initiatives that will drive progress in our community, helping us remain competitive. Our mission is to stand as a voluntary organization of businesses and professionals, who have joined together for the purpose of promoting the civic, economic, professional, cultural and industrial progress in the area.”

THINGS TO DO

The beautiful Arkansas River winds its way through Russellville between the Ouachita and Ozark Mountains providing year-round recreational opportunities throughout the Russellville area.

Whether hiking to the Cedar Falls on Petit Jean Mountain, boating on Lake Dardanelle, biking the Chickalah trail on Mount Nebo, or spending a weekend at Mount Magazine's lodge in the clouds, an up-close and personal relationship with nature is never more than just a few steps away. With so much natural beauty surrounding the Arkansas River Valley, Russellville is one of the most desirable places in the state of Arkansas for families to live and visit.

For more information about Tourism in the River Valley, visit The Russellville Tourism & Visitors' Center at 110 South Commerce, call at 479-967-1762, or visit DiscoverRussellville.org

FISHING & BOATING

Dardanelle Lock and Dam is located south of Russellville on the Arkansas River, which created Lake

TOURISM

Dardanelle. This 35,000 acre body of water is known for its boating, skiing, and some of the state's best bass fishing along with a state of the art fishing tournament weigh in pavilion. Even non-anglers enjoy the aquarium and other features of the impressive visitor's center at Lake Dardanelle State Park.

Lake Dardanelle State Park and Old Post Road Park together offer boat access ramps, fishing piers with handicap accessibility, an information center, 332 campsites, cabins, a marina and boat repair, and an amphitheater. Lake Dardanelle State Park Visitor Center encompasses 10,527 sq. ft. and houses interactive nature exhibits, a multipurpose meeting room and classroom, and park staff offices. The State Park also offers many programs including eagle tours and provides kayak, paddleboard, and boat rentals.

NATIONAL PARKS LANDS

Holla Bend Natural Wildlife Refuge located to the south of Russellville is one of the state's most outstanding areas for viewing and photographing wildlife. The Refuge, containing over 6,300 acres, provides natural habitat for over 150 species of birds, including migrating waterfowl. Visitors can view the wildlife from several viewing stations provided by the US Fish & Wildlife Service.

The Ozark National Forest has many recreational areas for hunting, fishing, camping, floating, hiking and perhaps the only bayou in the country featuring whitewater. For unforgettable Arkansas scenery, gas up your favorite ride and take a road trip along Scenic 7 Byway, Mt. Magazine Scenic Byway (Arkansas 309), and the Ozark Highlands Scenic Byway (Arkansas 23). In Russellville, off-road junkies are never very far from an ATV trail. An area that is primarily a horse trail, Moccasin Gap is a multiple-use trail open to off-road vehicles, mountain bikes, hikers, & high-clearance vehicles.

The crown jewel of the Ozark National Forest would have to be the Buffalo National River. The Buffalo snakes its way through the Forest creating plenty of opportunity for canoeing and kayaking surrounded by stunning vistas.

CITY RECREATION & PARKS

Russellville's 23 city parks cover over 790 acres of land. These parks and the Hughes Community Center offer activities such as lighted tennis courts, disc golf, a splash pad, lighted baseball and softball fields, a skate park, a soccer complex, an Olympic-size swimming pool, basketball court, and equipped playgrounds.

The Russellville Aquatic Center has an 8 lane competition sized pool that features basketball goals and a diving board. There is a heated therapy pool where we have many classes including Aqua Aerobics, and there's even a splash pad and an inflatable obstacle course for kids. M. J. Hickey Pool is a 50 meter swimming pool open each summer. Both the Aquatic Center and Hickey Pool are available for private parties.

Local schools participate in Arkansas Athletic Association football, basketball, swimming, baseball, track & field, golf, and volleyball. Arkansas Tech University competes in the NCAA Division II Great American Conference in football, basketball, volleyball, golf, tennis, and baseball. Two eighteen-hole golf courses are located just minutes from downtown Russellville. Russellville Recreation and Parks and others also host sports leagues for children and adults.

LIVE

Russellville

Situated between the Ozark and Ouachita National Forest, Russellville is located in the heart of West Central Arkansas. Russellville has the perfect mix of urban and rural life, and with a population of 29, 338, the city is just large enough to offer a lower cost of living, quality education from primary through higher education, and lots of activities for the whole family.

Residents of Russellville enjoy the qualities of a healthy and diverse economy, high-quality healthcare, excellent education, an abundance of retail shopping and entertainment events. At the same time, they appreciate the comforts and conveniences of small-town life – affordable housing, friendly people and low crime....

MOUNTAIN BIKE TRAILS

Single track, switchbacks, waterfalls and more, the Arkansas River Valley offers top-notch biking trails for every level. Make plans to get off the pavement and find your next adventure on our trails. From The Sweet Spot that can be easy or a challenge and connects the entire trail system to the Old Post trail for tight and twisty turns, our trails have something for the experienced mountain biker to easier trails for families and beginners. Mount Nebo State Park is home to the Chickalah Loop Trail, the latest Monument Trail to be introduced by Arkansas State Parks and the Arkansas Parks and Recreation Foundation. The trail is an intermediate trail with several expert features and incomparable views.

HIKING TRAILS

If adventure is your goal, one of the best ways to experience all the beauty Russellville has to offer is on one of our many hiking trails. The city has trails for every skill level, from paved and flat, looping through the city to a more advanced full day or more hikes through the three mountain peaks. Bona Dea Trails and Wildlife Sanctuary offers over six miles of walking and jogging trails through 186 acres of natural wildlife habitat. A physical fitness course with 18 workout stations is also available for those seeking a more vigorous workout. For a bit more of a challenge, hike the 3.2 mile Rim Trail on Mount Nebo. The trail follows along the outer rim of Mount Nebo with beautiful rock bluffs, a waterfall, and views of the Arkansas River Valley. Along the trail, you will also pass Sunrise Point and Sunset Point. They are appropriately named, so be sure you are there at the correct time of day. Take a trek to the highest point in Arkansas on the one mile Signal Hill Trail at Mount Magazine State Park, or check out great vista views from Bear Hollow or North Rim trails.

“Mountain hiking, mountain views, lakes, rivers, and trails... I was hooked from my visit and Russellville became my home.”

Joe Wolfe

Quality, convenient, and affordable healthcare will always be a driving factor to consider when locating to a new region of the country. The Arkansas River Valley region fulfills these needs with numerous medical clinics and a regional medical center.

MEDICAL CARE

The largest medical facility in the River Valley is St. Mary's Regional Medical Center in Russellville. Equipped with the most up-to-date technological medical equipment, the facility offers a number of services including 24-hour level III Trauma Emergency Care, and full-time physician coverage.

Saint Mary's partnership with Survival Flight, Inc., has significantly improved access to life-saving trauma care by reducing the time needed to fly in an emergency helicopter to Saint Mary's, as well as the time needed to provide immediate patient transportation to a higher level of emergent care.

Saint Mary's Regional Health System is also home to four medical clinics and 20 specialty clinics, whose staff ranges anywhere from one to 23 physicians on staff.

CHI St. Vincent Heart Clinic is a cardiology subspecialty clinic for the diagnosis and treatment of diseases and conditions of the heart and vascular systems, and take care to get a proper diagnosis and develop a personalized treatment plan to ensure the best outcome and quality of life for each patient.

Conway Regional has two primary care clinics in the River Valley, Russellville & Pottsville, providing a wide variety of health care services.

CARTI provides cancer treatment to patients throughout Arkansas including a hematology, oncology, and diagnostic radiology services in Russellville.

The Arkansas Heart Hospital Clinic provides cardiac care and testing as well as health and wellness fairs and community screenings. The Russellville Clinic is also home to one of the only Strong Hearts Cardiac Rehabilitation Centers in the state.

Russellville is also home to numerous independent primary and specialty care clinics as well as two urgent care centers.

MENTAL HEALTH

Saint Mary's Turning Point Behavioral Health Unit provides short-term inpatient psychiatric care. The unit is enhanced with video-based telepsychiatry technology, which helps the unit provide readily accessible, compassionate care. Turning Point maintains an occupancy rate of 90 percent with consistently high patient satisfaction scores near 90 percent as well.

In Russellville, there are numerous other programs and nonprofits to support mental health of the community. Independent counselors, Arisa Health, Community Service Inc, and multiple rehabilitation facilities (both inpatient and outpatient) are available to our citizens.

SENIOR CARE

Russellville is home to many nursing and rehabilitation centers, independent living facilities, and assisted facilities to make planning for your golden years easier.

HEALTH & WELLNESS

If you're looking to stay in shape or get there, Russellville has several options. From large national chains, to locally owned smaller community fitness centers, there is an option for you.

To all our hard-working residents and visitors who need some rest and "me time," we've got you covered! Pamper yourself in one of the many spas and salons offering facials, massages, nail services, skin-care and hair treatments.

Whether you need to look and feel your best for a special event or just want to add a little more relaxation to your vacation, treat yourself.

If you are looking for a little culture or just some old-fashioned family entertainment, Russellville has it all. Many organizations host a number of events and festivals throughout the year to provide residents with something to do without the long drive. Activities include something for everyone from art exhibits to concerts to fishing tournaments and theatre.

The Center for the Arts stands prominently at the front of Russellville High School and has welcomed thousands of visitors since it's opening in 2012. The 130,000 square foot facility was a dream of Russellville School District to have a performing arts center to expand educational and cultural resources for students and the community. With a 1,875 seat performance space, the multi-purpose Center is home to district events including band and choir concerts, theatrical and musical productions, art shows as well as various other school related programs. The Center is also ideal for individuals, organizations and performers seeking a venue for graduation ceremonies, business meetings, music concerts, dance recitals, workshops and other events.

The River Valley Arts Center sponsors art exhibits, concerts and plays and other cultural activities. The Arts Center has a gallery with new exhibits monthly. Admittance is free to the public. Annual shows include Collegiate Competition open to any college student in the state, a statewide High School Competition, and local artist exhibit. Other exhibits are from area, state and nationally renowned artists. The Arts Center produces a summer musical and fall play featuring local talent. Another summer program offered by the Arts Center is Summer Arts Camps. Through this program, children enjoy a day camp setting, immersed in a variety of art forms led by artists.

During the Summer Months, Main Street Russellville's Downtown at Sundown Concert Series has proven to be very popular! Local and Regional musicians perform at Depot Park on the last Saturday of each of the summer months, and local business provide refreshments. It's free admission, and always a good night!

Russellville Downtown businesses extend their business hours on the First Friday in March, June, September, and December to host area artists and musicians for the Downtown Art Walk. Since 2005 this event has been a collaboration between the Russellville Downtown Association, a committee of Main Street Russellville and the Arkansas River Valley Arts Center.

Since 2019, several murals sprang up in the River Valley, three of which were commissioned by the Russellville Regional Leadership Academy. Murals are located at Exit 78, Russellville City Park, Downtown Russellville, and at Lake Dardanelle State Park. Arkansas Tech University Artist-in-Residence Tiffany Black completed a community mural now on campus at ATU, and a mural for River Valley Food 4 Kids.

HOMES IN RUSSELLVILLE

Every year more and more people choose the Russellville area as the place they want to call home.

The area's friendly, welcoming atmosphere and sense of community make Russellville an easy decision. Residential architecture styles range from historic traditional to modern contemporary. Whether you are looking for a modest single-family home, sprawling rural homestead, condominium, subdivision, or golf course community, you will find it in Russellville.

As Russellville's economy grows, the selection of housing is keeping pace. New developments in and beyond city limits compliment established neighborhoods that surround the central business district in Pope County. Russellville's older neighborhoods exhibit a sense of the community's past. Many have been kept in pristine condition, while others have been renovated to fit the needs of the twenty-first century. Established neighborhoods offer a variety in price, architecture and activities. Downtown Russellville continues its revival as historic buildings are renovated into uses that serve a contemporary lifestyle. Just to the south of Main Street and west of Arkansas Avenue lies one of Russellville's oldest neighborhoods. The tree lined streets frame an eclectic mix of architecture from every era of Russellville's history. You will find every style of home from Queen Anne Victorians, Arts and Craft style, quaint bungalows, cottages, shotgun houses, Tudor Revival, ranch style, to even a Frank Lloyd Wright designed home.

The Arkansas River Valley region has quality and ample housing available and the home prices are well below the state and national median costs. The housing market in Pope County is advantageous in two areas: median home age and median home.

The median home age in Pope County is almost ten years younger than the national average.

The median home cost is almost half of the national average.

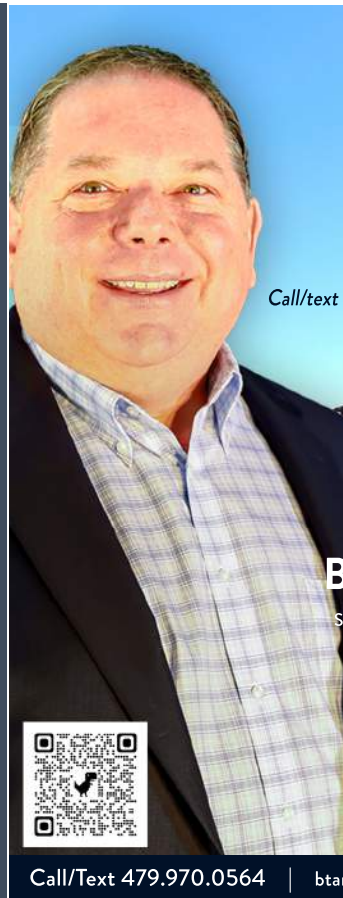

LOOKING FOR A REAL ESTATE AGENT?

When it comes to buying a home in the current market, having a real estate agent at your side that knows the local real estate market gives you the upper hand.

With its continuous expansion, the vibrant community of Russellville offers a plethora of shopping options to both locals and visitors. Within the city, shoppers can explore a diverse array of stores, ranging from well-known national retailers to charming boutique establishments. These include specialty shops, antique stores, and stores catering to various needs such as men's, women's, and children's fashion, as well as housewares. Residents can also find a selection of grocers, hardware stores, bookshops, and discount stores. With such a wide variety of retailers, Russellville ensures that shopping becomes an enjoyable and convenient experience for all.

AREA UTILITIES

Businesses operating in the Arkansas River Valley area have confidence in the utility providers available to them. Whether it's electricity, natural gas, telecommunications, or water services, these providers share a common emphasis on affordability and reliability. As a result, businesses in the region experience enhanced efficiency and productivity.

Regarding electricity, Entergy Arkansas, Inc., one of the largest publicly owned utility companies in the country, supplies power to the area. They offer various services to support business development, such as the assistance of local engineers at no cost, rate discounts for eligible clients, and the resources of the Teamwork Arkansas group in Little Rock, which aids businesses with site selection, incentives, financing, and more.

For natural gas, Summitt Utilities, a regional multi-state company, provides services to all industries in the region.

As for telecommunications, local Internet service providers like CenturyLink, Optimum, and Ritter Communications (commercial only) cater to the needs of businesses in the area.

Water services are managed by individual municipalities within the region. Tri-County Water Association and Northeast Yell County Water Association serve rural areas in Pope and Yell County respectively. City Corporation, a nonprofit entity established in 1985, operates the water and wastewater system for the City of Russellville, Arkansas. They also collaborate with surrounding communities and provide services to Tri-County Regional Water, the City of Dover, and the City of London. Notably, City Corporation received accolades for the taste of its water at the annual American Water Works Association Conference in Chicago, Illinois. The Huckleberry Creek Reservoir, completed in 1996, serves as the primary water source, holding 5.8 billion gallons of water at full capacity and providing over 40 million gallons per day for 120 days during drought conditions. The treatment plant can handle up to 20 million gallons per day, surpassing the current maximum system demand of just over 10 million gallons per day, ensuring ample capacity for the foreseeable future.

Each municipality within the region manages its own wastewater utility.

WORSHIP & NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

Russellville acknowledges and embraces the diversity present within its community, offering endless opportunities to connect with new friends and loved ones.

Civic Clubs and Other Organizations

If you desire to actively engage with a local organization, there are numerous civic, professional, and youth organizations that always appreciate assistance. Our local civic clubs include Noon Rotary, Downtown Rotary, Kiwanis, and more. Additionally, you can participate in special interest groups like the River Valley Arts Center, Pope County Master Gardeners, or Junior Auxiliary.

Pope County Library

The Pope County Library hosts a wide range of clubs and classes suitable for the entire family, including art classes, life skills classes, book clubs, movie nights, and monthly game nights.

Houses of Worship

Russellville is home to numerous houses of worship that cater to various faiths and denominations. Residents and visitors are warmly welcomed at all religious institutions and encouraged to worship at the church of their choice. Currently, over forty churches and religious centers exist in Russellville, representing a diverse range of denominations. The religious community places a strong emphasis on spiritual growth and faith-based education. Many congregations provide opportunities for residents to volunteer and serve the community. Church members actively participate in various community events, from festivals to charitable initiatives. Most houses of worship offer special programs for youth, teens, seniors, and families, as well as marriage enrichment activities.

Philanthropic Organizations

Russellville is a community that collaborates and celebrates together, particularly during times of hardship. Philanthropy and volunteerism form the core of many businesses and organizations striving to make a positive impact in our region. Regardless of your passion, whether it's addressing food insecurity, health-related causes, environmental issues, or something else entirely, Russellville provides avenues for you to get involved and make a meaningful difference.

ATU

The Arkansas River Valley region benefits from nearby colleges and universities in more ways than one. Not only do they provide higher education opportunities for those living in the region, but they also result in younger people living in the area. The presence of youth results in a sense of vibrancy and energy and also a supply of skilled employees.

There are five colleges and universities in close proximity to the Arkansas River Valley Region that educate and train the region's workforce. Each institution's specialized programs of study result in a collaborative but unique education.

Arkansas Tech University

A fundamental culture of grit and perseverance supports Arkansas Tech University students in the pursuit of their academic goals. As a result, ATU has been ranked No. 1 in Arkansas on CollegeNET's Social Mobility Index six consecutive years through 2019. The annual rating is an indicator of a university's success in providing graduates with a pathway to an enhanced economic standing. Students explore intersecting career paths made possible by more than 120 undergraduate degree programs and more than 25 graduate degree options. More than 93 percent of ATU students are Arkansans, and 3 of every 4 ATU graduates remain in Arkansas to apply what they have learned and help further develop their home state's economy. Learn more at www.atu.edu.

Arkansas Tech University - Ozark Campus

ATU-Ozark Campus provides a pathway for students seeking technical and career education in fields such as skilled trades, health care, automation, business, banking and logistics. Credentials earned through ATU-Ozark are designed to be stackable and can lead to bachelor's degree opportunities through ATU. Financial aid opportunities such as the Arkansas Future (ArFuture) Grant and the Career Pathways Initiative are available for eligible ATU-Ozark students. Learn more at www.atu.edu/ozark.

Arkansas Tech University Career Center

Credentials earned at Arkansas Tech Career Center (ATCC) prepare graduates for immediate career opportunities and additional education through ATU's campuses in Russellville and Ozark. Programs in automation systems technologies, automotive technology, computer engineering/computer information systems, construction technology, criminal justice/law enforcement, culinary arts, cosmetology, health science technology and metal fabrication are offered at the ATCC location adjacent to Russellville High School. ATCC operates satellite locations in Clarksville, Danville, Ozark and Paris. Learn more at www.atu.edu/careercenter.

UACCM

University of Arkansas Community College at Morrilton

UACCM offers many high-wage, high-demand career training programs in technical, health, business, and service-related fields. The college's 54,000-sq-ft, state-of-the-art Workforce Training Center provides ample lab space for students in the HVAC, welding, automotive, and industrial mechanics and maintenance programs. Graduates of UACCM's career programs are prepared to enter the workforce in one to two years.

UACCM also offers general education courses that are transferable to four-year universities. Graduates can complete an associate degree and transfer as a junior to complete their bachelor's degree. Transfer agreements between UACCM and individual universities, including 2+2 plans, ensure smooth transferability.

Enrollment is approximately 1,800 students, allowing for small classes taught in a nurturing environment. High school juniors and seniors from a six-county area may enroll at the UACCM Career Center and take classes free of charge. More information is available at www.uaccm.edu.

U OF OZARKS

University of The Ozarks

As the first institution of higher learning that was established in the Arkansas-Oklahoma territory, the University of The Ozarks in Clarksville has earned a reputation of being one of the region's finest Christian liberal arts institutions. Another history-setting feat by the university was accomplished when a special learning center was built, making it the first college in the nation to offer advanced education to students with learning disabilities.

LOCAL INDUSTRY

Russellville boasts fifty major manufacturing facilities, which include divisions of ten Fortune 500 companies. Notable industries such as Bridgestone/Firestone, Tyson Foods, ConAgra Foods, Owens Corning, International Paper, and Olin Corporation thrive in this city. The key strength of Russellville lies in its diverse range of industries, providing a high-quality labor force consisting of skilled workers, technicians, and administrative personnel.

The manufacturing sector in the River Valley region produces a wide range of products, including aluminum foil, aircraft components, electronics, various food items, metal fabrication, automotive parts, paper products, plastics, and even nuclear power. Arkansas Nuclear One, situated along the Arkansas River just outside of Russellville, stands as the sole nuclear power plant in Arkansas. Currently, there are 50 manufacturers in the area. Major manufacturing employers in the region include ConAgra Foods, Tyson Foods, and Arkansas Nuclear One.

The Russellville Regional Economic Development Alliance is a public-private organization dedicated to attracting new industries to the area and fostering an environment for existing industries to thrive and expand. Its members comprise representatives from industry, businesses, individuals, and the government. The cities of Russellville, Pottsville, Dover, and Dardanelle, as well as the counties of Pope and Yell, are all members of the Alliance.

The Russellville Regional Workforce Cabinet actively supports industries in their search for qualified employees. Workforce availability remains a crucial economic challenge, as a business's success hinges on its ability to find skilled workers. Prior to the pandemic, the record-low unemployment rate resulted in a limited labor pool, constraining further business growth. In the years to come, how communities address these workforce challenges will significantly impact their growth and prosperity.

Job Finder is a central location to post job openings or find a position that is near Russellville. There is no charge to use this site, which was launched in April 2022. The Job Finder Mobile App was launched in July 2023. On average Job Finder has information on approximately 1,000 job postings in the Russellville area. If your company is not already on the site, create a log-in and soon after, you will be able to post your job openings.

GOVERNMENT

Since its incorporation in 1870, the City of Russellville has operated under a mayor-city council form of government. The mayor is elected for a four-year term, while the city's eight aldermen are elected for two-year terms. These eight aldermen represent four wards, with two aldermen assigned to each ward. City commissions consist of volunteers, with an alderman serving as a liaison to each commission.

Russellville residents have high expectations for public service, and over 180 city employees work diligently to meet those expectations every day. For further information, you can contact the Russellville Mayor's office at 203 South Commerce, Russellville, AR 72801, call 479-968-2098, send a fax to 479-968-2358, email cityhall@rsvlar.org, or visit RussellvilleArkansas.org.

Pope County, located in Northwest Arkansas, is the 13th largest county in the state of Arkansas, with a population of 63,835. It is situated midway between Little Rock and Fort Smith, with the Arkansas River forming its southern boundary and the Ozark National Forest encompassing its northern boundary. The county spans 822 square miles, ranking as the 15th largest county in the state in terms of land area.

Within Pope County, you will find several incorporated cities and towns, including Atkins, Dover, Hector, London, Pottsville, and Russellville, which serves as the county seat. The county is governed by a County Judge and Quorum Court, comprising thirteen Justices of the Peace representing thirteen districts. Various County Boards, such as the Library Board, Ambulance Service Board, Housing Board, Intermodal Board, Law Library Board, Equalization Board, and 9-1-1 Board, are also part of the county government. For more information about the county government, you can contact the Pope County Judge's office at 100 West Main Street, call 479-968-7487, or visit popcountyar.com.

Residents of Russellville and Pope County receive police protection from the Russellville Police Department and the Pope County Sheriff's office. The Russellville Police Department has 57 sworn officers, including one chief, three captains, six lieutenants, six sergeants, six detectives, and 30 patrol officers. Additionally, two uniformed officers are assigned as School Resource Officers in the public school system. To learn more, you can contact the Russellville Police Department at 115 West H Street, Russellville, AR 72801, call 479-968-3232, visit their website at www.russellvillepolice.org, or check out the Russellville Police Facebook page. The Pope County Sheriff's Office and Pope County Jail are situated in Russellville at #3 Emergency Lane. For further information, please contact the Sheriff's office at 479-968-2558.

The Russellville Fire Department is responsible for fire response and prevention, rescue operations, hazardous materials response, and Emergency Medical Services for the residents of Russellville. The department comprises 56 firefighters and three civilians who continuously staff four fire stations. The personnel include a Fire Chief, Division Chief of Professional Standards, Fire Marshal, two Deputy Fire Marshals, Deputy Building Official, Building Inspector, Administrative Assistant, three Battalion Chiefs, 12 Captains, 15 Engineers, and 21 Firefighters. Currently, the city holds a Class 2 ISO fire insurance rating. The department places a significant emphasis on community viability by focusing on business continuity and sustainability through fire prevention and risk mitigation programs. It collaborates closely with government officials, the business community, builders, developers, and neighboring volunteer fire departments and emergency service agencies to effectively minimize potential community risks. For more information, you can contact the the Fire Chief's office at 479-968-2332.

TRANSPORTATION

Russellville and the Arkansas River Valley area are fortunate to have a strong connection to a transportation network spanning various modes of transportation, including interstate, federal, and state highways, coast-to-coast rail service, a short-line railroad, the ice-free Arkansas River, a municipal airport, and a high-speed data transmission network that rivals any other city in the world.

One of the main transportation arteries, Interstate 40, runs through Russellville, serving as a vital east-west highway corridor across the country. Four convenient exits in Russellville provide easy access to the entire local highway network.

The region boasts an extensive network of highways, such as U.S. Highway 64 and State Highways 7, 124, 247, 331, and 326. These routes offer motorists numerous options to reach various destinations, including Hot Springs National Park, the picturesque Ozark and Ouachita Mountains, and the entertainment hub of Branson, Missouri.

A favorite among travelers is Scenic State Highway 7, the first designated scenic state highway in Arkansas. Departing from Russellville, this captivating route takes drivers through the stunning Ouachita Mountains in the south and the breathtaking Ozark Mountains and Buffalo National River in the north.

Various industries leverage the area's railway network to transport their products globally. The Union-Pacific Railroad's primary east-west line passes through Russellville and the River Valley, providing rail service to ports across the United States.

Russellville also benefits from a short-line railroad called the Dardanelle and Russellville Railroad (D&R RR). Stretching five miles, this railroad connects directly to the Union-Pacific Railroad in Russellville. Originally built in 1883, the D&R RR was initially constructed to facilitate the transportation of goods from the Arkansas River to Russellville and the Union-Pacific Railroad. Today, the D&R RR serves multiple industries and the Port of Dardanelle on the Arkansas River.

Situated between Russellville and Dardanelle and accessible via State Highway 7 and the D&R RR, the Port of Dardanelle offers transfer and storage services, including general warehousing, grain storage, and automated loading and unloading capabilities. Several barge lines operate from the port, transporting commodities like bauxite, grain, chemicals, fertilizer, steel, rubber, wood and paper products, and stone.

The Russellville Municipal Airport features a 5,500-foot runway that is 75 feet wide. Non-directional beacons and GPS approaches enable aircraft operations during inclement weather conditions, with cloud ceilings as low as 275 feet. The airport accommodates large general aviation business aircraft and provides amenities such as a maintenance facility, aviation gasoline and jet-A fuels, a reception area, and a conference room. The airport is staffed during most daylight hours (7:30 am to 6:30 pm in the summer), and after-hours service can be arranged in advance.

Russellville is conveniently located between two commercial airports offering full instrument landing systems (ILS) and airline services. Little Rock National Airport, approximately 80 miles southeast, and the Fort Smith airport, 80 miles to the west, are both accessible via Interstate 40.

A person is seen from behind, sitting in a red and black striped hammock. The hammock is suspended over a body of water, with a tree branch visible on the right side. The background is a bright, slightly blurred view of the water and sky.
